

Prizewinners At Colorful Parade

Drought and grasshoppers we may have. But the district suffers no shortage of horses and horsemen. Its citizens still have plenty of inventive ideas talent and sense of humour. All these were well illustrated at the rodeo parade on July 3rd when this and surrounding communities put forth tremendous effort and produced a parade which was bigger and better than ever.

Led by RCMP, Old Timers, civic and rodeo officials, and 153 Company RCASC band, the contestants in the various parade events marched through High River performing for the enjoyment of the spectators.

Judging took place prior to the parade and the following prizewinners were announced; with cash awards and trophies:

Best dressed Indian, receiving the Mrs. George Chattaway award, was Mark Left Hand, with cash prizes also going to J. Dixon, John Left Hand and D. Amos. Sharon Rider received the Cartwright Memorial award for the best dressed Indian woman, with Alvena Left Hand Elsie Jimmyjohn and R. Left Hand also prizewinners.

Bradley's award in the Old Timers' Special for residents of 1905 or earlier, was won by Bill Herron. The Dr. C. G. Phillips' award to the Old Timer dressed in typical costume of the period was won by Mrs. F. Hartwick, with Mr. Wathen and Mr. Hartwick also winning cash awards in this event.

High River Chamber of Commerce with their novel golf balls won the High River Medical Clinic award for Organizational floats, second prize going to the members of Canadian Handicraft Guild, High River branch.

Alberta Arnold won the colorful Glamour costume riders award, the C. Heselting trophy, followed by Bill Fraser and Mrs. Leonard Stokes.

High River Motor Company's award for commercial floats went to the High River saw the St. George and Gateway Hotels award won once again by the Little Bow Branding Bee outfit, this year depicting "Home on the Range." The Recreation Committee's slave auction placed second and the self-styled Bottle Scarred Veterans, the Pekisko Kids, won third money.

An award from C. Gau and first place money for the best dressed cowboy under 16 years of age went to Peter Fraser. Lyle Clingman and John Gough also were prizewinners in this section. Laura Pence won the Way's Grocery Store award for girls 15 and under, followed by Donna Jubinville and Chris Boyd.

In the boys' competition for best decorated Shetland pony and rider, Duane Noble won the High River Department Store award, with David Fraser second and Ronald McDonagh and Bobby Fraser tied for third prize.

The Elias Hardware prize for girls in this class went to Lana Stoke, with Alana Hamilton second.

Riding Clubs were well and colorfully represented with first place won by Springbank, Okotoks second and High River third. The top award in this event was presented by Paul Bietz and Vern Meyer of Imperial Oil, High River.

Harley Earl won the D

Cayley Picnic At Town Park

Last Thursday Cayley S. school and public school held a joint picnic at Cayley park.

About 150 pupils, parents, and teachers gathered at 11.45 for an old fashioned picnic lunch, after which pupils and parents alike joined in the fun and games conducted by M. Dellinski, recreation teacher for the year. The general opinion was it was one of the most successful gatherings ever held in the park.

Ranch award for plain kid cowboys under 15, followed by Wayne F. Smith and L. Miller, with Donna Morrison, Wendy Noble and Barbara Jones winning the girls' event.

The Alberta Wheat Pool entry driven by Norman Bell received the Dr. Friend Herring award for best decorated cars, with Mountain View Service Station second.

In the top running for the High River Pharmacy award for decorated bicycles, was Sandra Sparks, followed by F. Heater and Ross Davidson. These entries were very enterprising, as was the section for original and comic displays for children 10 years and under. In this event the High River Electric prize went to the Hawaii Babes, Sharon, Lynn and Janice Phillips, Jacqueline Denney and Janice Pickersgill. The Hodges' children were second with their covered wagon; Ricky McLean placed third with his Shetland pony and cart, and pirate Michael Fisher was fourth.

Popular too, were the comic and original displays for adults, with the High River nurses winning the Dr. C. Forsyth award for their "Miss Nausea" entry. In second place was a Cayley entry "End of the Rainbow" and third "The Bounty Hunters" entered by Walter Gaja.

The girls drum and bugle band and troupes of drum majorettes sponsored by the Calgary Lions Club were out in force and provided colorful entertainment with their intricate marching, not only along the parade route but also later in front of the grandstand.

To the many entrants, veteran parade organizer Felmer Eamor, Gordon Stothers and their committee, goes credit for another splendid parade, setting the key-note for an entertaining and exciting day at the High River Rodeo.

RENNEBERG

St. Francis de Sales church was the scene of the wedding on Saturday, July 8th. Dorothy Lucille Clai daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Clark, and Ronald Otto Renneberg of Bowden, Alberta son of Mr. and Mrs. Th. Renneberg of Bruno, Saskatchewan. The Rev. Father I. Leav officiated at the 10.00 a.m. ceremony. Pink roses and white carnations decorated the altar for the service.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in full length white lace over taffeta, panel of tiny pleats featuring the front of her gown and trim of sequins and pearls was repeated in the train holding her three-quarter length veil. Her bouquet was a cascade of red roses, as she wore single drop pearl earrings and necklace, a gift of the groom.

Her bridal attendants were dressed in identical dresses of net over taffeta in varying shades of mauve. Miss William Baumgart of Calgary, sister of the bride was matron of honor. Her gown of pale mauve was complemented by the dress mauve worn by the bride.